EXPERIENCE

Public Interest & Civil Rights Advocacy

My tenure at the DOJ Civil Rights Division and training through the NAACP LDF provided a foundation in federal litigation and systemic advocacy. This experience is directly applicable to defending the public's right to access infrastructure and navigating the complex interplay between federal mandates and local implementation.

Nonprofit Governance & Risk Management

As an advisor to boards and institutional leaders, I have handled sensitive governance matters, compliance questions, investigations, policy issues, and institutional risk assessments. I understand that legal strategy must always be aligned with the broader mission and public image.

Litigation & Advocacy

I have experience across multiple phases of litigation, including investigations, discovery, motion practice, administrative advocacy, and appellate-style briefing. I am adept at translating technical regulatory language into persuasive legal arguments, a skill essential for the administrative and regulatory challenges inherent in railbanking and related public-interest work.
